In Defense of Their Attitude Toward the Carnegie Company.

MEETING OF UNION MILL MEN. United States Official After Imported Contract Labor.

SITUATION AT SHOENBERGER'S MILL.

Messra, McLuckie, Lynch and O'Donnell were expected to address a meeting held by the strikers of Carnegie's Twentyninth and Thirty-third street mills yesterday afternoon, but their coming was evidently interfered with by the information made by the Carnegie officials.

A large crowd of men were present and for 3 o'clock, they waited patiently until half-past three in the hope that the people from Homestead would arrive. At that time R. K. Warren mounted the stage in company with Vice President Sheehan, the President and Secretary elect of the association, and several iron workers from Sheehan as chairman, who was elected unanimously. Not to Oppose Manufacturers.

Chairman Sheehan responded to the honor conferred in a neat speech, in which he introduced President-elect Garland. In the course of his address he compared a labor organization with other associations formed it was not the purpose of labor to oppose the manufacturers, but to only arrange prices, so that a working man could get a fair living. "Some manufacturers" he continued "want to get an advantage over their competitors. In the opinion of this class our associations are of no benefit to the workman. They think labor is something to be sold in the market and a price paid for it as the market demands, just the same as old iron and rags not taking into consideration that man is a social creature, is subject to want and must sell what he has for a fair price or he and his loved ones at home must suffer. I can't see how people construe this strike is a sympathetic one. I think it is a strike in full support of all the demands of society.

Would Have Worked Homestead Steel. "You people were a little more fortunate than your brothers in getting your scale signed, but you were comforted with the fact that you would have to work material which should have been worked in some departments of the Homestead mill, and if you had consented to do this your position uld have been as bad as the men who are taking other men's places. They say they will take you back as individuals. What What difference is there in a man whether he is union or non-union? Does his nature change upon joining an organization? What assurance have you if you went back that your wages would be kept up? The only salvation for fair rule is the keeping up of our organizations."

Vice President Sheehan introduced James Brown, of Beaver Falls, saying he did not consider himself a public speaker, but he could address the meeting in "good rolling mill English." Mr. Brown said that he not consider the strike altogether a sympathetic one and that the merchant's his town did not give them their support because they considered they had broken their contract with the Carnegies. This position was caused by the merchants refus ng to listen to the men's side of the story. He said that the feeling is turning now.

Rebelling Against the Workingman. "The men," he continued, "who are in-renched behind a barricade of boards and neace of the workingman. The speaker was here greatly applauded. He continued: over the country could be heard by the mer back of the fences it would cause the blush of manhood to color their cheeks once more, and they would come out and say Carnegie's money could not buy their Mr. Brown's speech was received with great applianse.

The Secretary-elect of the association was introduced and made quite a long speech, dilating upon the loyalty among the men. He referred to the fact that the small numof men who have returned to work, notwithstanding the great inducements being lered by the Carnegies was a strong evidence of the strength in the ranks. He was

The next speaker introduced was Austin Olgale, who spoke briefly, but to the point. He said that principle, not sympathy, was the matter involved in this strike. After a speech by Brother Johnston, which caused no little merriment, the meeting adjourned at the call of the Chairman.

NOT A LARGE CONTRACT.

Secretary Love Joy Says Armor Plate Is Only a Side Issue. "All this talk about this great Government contract which we have amuses me very much," said Secretary Lovejoy, of the Carnegie Company. "We have heard more about this contract than any other we have ever taken, and yet it is only a side matter—just two days' production of the Homestead mill, if it was pushed, exclusive of the finishing work upon it. The contract amounts to 6,000 tons, which sinks into inscrifficance when compared with contracts of 40,000 tons which we frequently get. Out at Bessemer inst month our production was over 36,000 tons, so you can appreciate that the Government contract is not such a large matter after all."

MANAGER DILLON TALKS,

Says Work Is Progressing Favorably at the Thirty-Third Street Mill. There is nothing new in the situation out here," said Manager Dillon, of the Thirty-third street mill, yesterday. "We are turning out more material and better material than we have ever manufactured. All this talk about broken machinery is bosh. The leaders have to make some excases for keeping the men who want to come back, away, and they find it hard work to obtain excuses that will be swallowed by the men. We did feel the effects of a strike some weeks ago, but now we would not know that there was one going on.

Their Scheme Didn't Work. Jacob Blakir and F. P. Hogan, two Duquesne men who are out on bail awaiting trials for rioting, tried to get positions in the Homestead mills on Wednesday, where they thought after working awhile the officials would relent and the charges against them would be withdrawn. They went under assumed names, but were recinized by some Pinkerton detectives who were on the Tide on the same trip to Homestead and were told to get away from the works as fast as possible.

Legalized the Shoenberger Strike, At a meeting of the Amalgamated men in the employ of Shoenberger & Ca, held yesterday in Floyd's Hall, Liberty street, the strike at that mill was legalized and ordered to be continued.

Work of Her Husband's Enemies. The information which was given to a reporter about a "lady in black" who has been appearing at the Thirty-third street mill seems to have been erroneous. Mrs. Burgess called at THE DISPATCH office yesterday and said there was no truth in the tatements made. She thinks that the matter was started by some of her husband's enemies. After leaving McKeesport on business he was immediately charged with going to work in a non-union mill. This statement she also declares false.

Court, United States District Attorney Lyon has entered suit in the United States Court, on behalf of the Government, against Patrick and John Feeny, doing business as Feeny Bros., to recover penalties aggregating $11,000. The defendants are quarrymen, and are working stone quarries at Walker's Mills. They are charged with importing foreign labor under contract, the penalty for which is $1,000 for each man so brought over, and is fixed by act of Congress.

Feeny Bros, it is alleged, contracted through Pietro Romano, their agent, with 11 Italians to come to this country and 12 Italians to come to the country and 13 Italians to come to the country and 14 Italians to come to the country and Walkers Mills. work in their quarries at Walkers Mills. The men were to receive from $1 30 to $1 75 per day. In pursuance of this contract they emigrated from Italy in May, 1892. The Il men were Guiseppe Rosai, Pietro Giac-onelle, B. Calderani, V. Collussi, B. Col-ussi, B. Rafaille, F. Romano, G. B. Rossi, B. Gambano and two men named Pietro

THREE TURNS AT ELBA,

No Settlement Reached Yet-Thirty Day's

Cinuse Causes Troub'e. The trouble between the Oil Well Supply Company and their employes at the Elba Iron Works regarding the putting of the puddlers on triple turn has not been setbarb wire, are a set of rebels against the tled. The men claim that it would be impossible for them to make a day's work in eight hours, and on the other hand the firm contends that any good puddler can make his five heats, fix his furnace and be out of the mill before eight hours are up.

The greatest obstacle is the question of granting the firm a 30 days' clause in the scale. If this were granted the scale could be annulled by either at 30 days notice. Manager Eversons says that a similar con-cern operated by union men has such a clause in in its scale and insists upon the Amalgamated Association giving him the same privilege. President Weihe said that the triple turn clause is applicable to all parts except the boiling department.

CAN'T TELL WHO TO TRUST.

But R. K. Warren Considers All Bis Men Good and True,

R. K. Warren, when asked what he thought about the report of the Pinkerton detectives being in their associations getting evidence for the Carnegie firm, said; "We run our matters on an entirely different line than the Homestead people. I ant line than the Homestead people. I don't suppose our Advisory Committee has met in the last month. All the work of conducting the strike is entrusted to subcommittees. Our work is all open and above board—every man connected with the association know exactly what is hap-pening. Of course after the developments of the past four days it is hard to know who to trust, but as far as the men connected "There is nothing new in the situation. You can see by the large attendance at our meeting this alternoon that there is no weakening in our lines."

STARTING OF THE GLASSHOUSES,

A Great Many of the Furnaces Will Be Fired To-Day,

The glass factories of the city did not start as usual on September 1. Most of them will fire up to-day. The cause given for this late starting is the dulless of the market. The houses billed to fire up to-day are D, O. Cunningham & Co., at South Twentieth and Jane street; McKee's Jean-nette plant and three furnaces at R. C. Schmertz & Co.'s plant at Bellevernon. There are four furnaces in all, but one has been undergoing repairs.

Abel, Smith & Co. will start their plant at Lancaster, O., on the 17th. Their South-side plant will not be operated this year, as the Mill. "We are getting along as well as could be expected," said a member of the firm of Shoenberger & Co. yesterday. "We have had applications for every position in our mill, but are not disposed to be in a hurry about the selection of the men, as we desire to get the best men possible.

Ontside of the new men we received this morning, there were 12 of our old men came back. They belong to the Amalgamated Association and work in the bessemer and blooming mills. We propose to start up our departments one by one, and will have the whole mill going in a short time."

A Strike in a Tin Plant. There is a small sized strike at the tin plant of the United States Iron and Tin piant of the United States from and the Plate works at McKeesport. A few days ago the men employed there packing tin asked the firm for an increase from 12 to 15 cents per box. The firm refused to grant their request, and at once the men left the plant. They are still out, but it is understood that the matter will be quietly settled, and they will return to work Monday morning.

PECULIAR STORY

Told by Adams, the Alleged Would-Be Train Wrecker.

HE NOW SAYS FORCE WAS USED

By the Detectives to Fxtort From Him That Confession.

ECHOES OF OHIOS AWPUL TRAGEDY

NEW CASTLE, Sept. 2 -[Special.]-"Farner" George W. Adams, as he is called, is the man who is in jail here charged with placing obstructions on the Ft. Wayne road at Enon some nights ago. He at first claimed to have found the ties on the track, and after getting shot through the hat and calf of the leg, succeeded in removing the obstruction. He made a confession to two detectives in the employ of the Pennsylvania company, stating that he had placed the ties on the track in hope of getting the reward. To THE DISPATCH correspondent and Constable Andy Parks, of Enon, Adams now states that he was forced to make the confession. He said: "We-the two detectives and myself-were in a locked room n the American House at Enon Valley when the confession was made. They told me there was $10,000 in it, and they would give me $3,333 if I would not reveal any detectives' secrets, and would state that I had placed the ties on the side track, and had shot myself through the leg and also through my hat.

"Detective Lazarus took a revolver from his pocket and asked me to swear to this statement. He pointed the revolver at me. I was frightened, but did not swear to the paper. I told him I would not reveal any of the detective secrets. I signed the con-fession because I was scared into it." Adams now sticks to his first story, that he found the obstructions on the track; that he saw two men, who shot him through the hat also through the leg. He gives as a reason for hiding his revolver under the ties, where it was subsequently found by the detectives, that he was afraid he would be blamed with putting the obstructions on be blamed with putting the obstructions on the track. He claimed that he fired five shots at the two men. The case will go before the grand jury next week. Adams spends the greater portion of his time cry-ing and moaning, his wounds preventing him from moving about Feitner's body was prepared for burial at the house where he met his sudden end, and the funeral this afternoon was one of the largest ever seen in that locality. Still lying in the house are the two wounded women, who have been receiving the best of medical attention. Mra Meiske is suffering terrible pain, her right arm and side being paralyzed and her face partially so. She cannot recover. Mra Feitner's wounds are, also, thought to be fatal, although she s perfectly rational and tells practically the same story as yesterday.

The body of Skinner was taken to Paden's Valley, Wetzel county, W. Va., where the funeral was held this afternoon.

Freenise & Forst's No. 6 Marshall Brought Up to 45 Barrels an Hour-Butler

County Operations—Reports From the Big Elizabeth Gas Field. No wells were reported to have tappe the oil rock yesterday. Greenlee & Forst shot their No. 6 on the Marshall farm, south of Nobiestown, and brought its production up from 10 to 45 barrels an hour. It was added to the list, but the output of the field was given as 18,000 barrels, the same as the previous day.

The Moore Oil Company expected to get into the fifth sand late last night at its well into the fifth sand late last night at its well on the Oak Ridge Coal Company's property, located half a mile east of Oakdale.

The Forest Oil Company is still drilling in the fourth sand on the Devine farm in the northeastern part of the McCurdy field. They have a small hole, and as it is full of oil they are not making much progress. Contrary to first indications the well is not going to be much of a producer from the fourth. Parties who are familiar with the well and who visited it yesterday do not believe it will make more than five or eight barrels a day.

The Sinclair Oil Company expects to finish up a couple of wells next week on the Kirk farm in the Meise hollow, south of Willow Grove, and the Florence Oil Company has a couple on the Mrs. Robb arm in the same locality which are nearing the sand.

The Woodland Oil Company's No. 3, on the Crawford farm, southwest of McDonald, is within a short distance of the Gordon sand. They do not expect a well in that formation, but are looking for oil in the fifth.

The Wheeling Gas Company's No. 3 Robbins, which offsets the Crawford No. 3, is down 1,600 feet.

at Petersville.

The Elizabeth Herold says in regard to the big gas well which John A. Snee recently drilled on the Homer Wright farm: Additional evidence is at hand to show that Snee's Wright well, a short distance above town, is the greatest gas producer ever drilled. When the well was turned into the 12-inch line to the Carnegie mills the pressure began to increase rapidly and soon ran up so that it was found necessary to turn other wells off. This was done until everyone of the 14 producing wells in the West Elizabeth field was cut out of the line. Still the pressure was found to be increasing at a rate which threatened danger to the line and the 22 wells in Washington county, the product of which has been conducted by the same line, were shut off. Then the big roarer was given a chance to show what she could do, and the astonishing fact was revealed that this one well was producing more than the other 36.

Mr. Snee presented each of the drillers on the big well with a check equal to twice the amount of wages for which they had agreed to work. He is building the rigs for Nos. 2 and 3 Wright, for No. 1 Biaine and No. 1 Lytle and No. 1 Pierce.

HE WAS A BASE DECEIVER.

The Physicians Sent Larimer to the City Farm as Incane and He Escapes. On Thursday night David Larimer mad his escape from the insane department of the Allegheny City Farm. He was sent there as insane from the workhouse two weeks ago by order of the Court, but it is now thought that his insanity was a sham. While at the Farm he was very moody, and his actions caused the examining physician to pronounce his case one of neute melan-cholia. His apparent gloomy disposition in-duced the attendants to take compassion on him and give him all allowable liberties. Larimer's room was on the third floor of the institution and the windows were protected by a wire screen.

At 2 o'clock yesterday morning the guard peeped into Larimer's room and found him gone. He had taken off the wire screen and lowered himself to the ground by a rope of bed clothing. Larimer, with three others, was sentenced to a term of 18 months in October last for robbing Mrs. Hunter's restaurant at Federal and Robinson streets. Larimer, with Henry Chambers and Martin Callaban, entered the restaurant on the night of October 10, and after chloroforming Mrs. Hunter with a saturated handkerchief robbed the place. On August 23 Larimer was examined as to his mental condition, and the physicians pronounced him insane. Larimer's home was at 17 Kilbuck street, Allegheny, and he was one of a gang of young men who made life a burden for the people of the First ward.

A GRATEFUL PROPLE

Letters and Words of Heartfelt Thanks -Prompt and Hearty Response to a Generous Offer-The People's Physicians Are Doing a Noble Work.

All the words of gratitude and praise that Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers have read in their correspondence and heard in their offices since the publication of their notable announcement in these columns to treat all diseases and all patients for $5 a month, medicine included, would melt a heart of stone to tenderness. If there were any doubts in to tenderness. If there were any doubts in their minds before taking this important and far-reaching step as to its propriety or its results from a business point of view, they have all been dispelled by the flood of grate ul letters and the army of grateful patients that have poured in on them since. To the true physician whose heart is in the right place there is a sense of satisfaction in relieving human suffering and producing cures that is vastly paramount to the fee received. Money alone cannot recompense a physician for the attention to every little detail and the constant watchful care of a long and tedious battle with disease. It is the

Splendid Besults Achieved,

Splendid Besutts Achieved,
the heartfelt "God bless you" of the grateful patient which brings that feeling of genuine satisfaction to the physician that money alone cannot bring.
So it is in this great movement inaugurated by Prs. Copeland, Hall and Byers in placing skillful treatment and the best of medicines within the reach of all, at the nominal price of $5 a month. Although the labor is great and the profit comparatively small, still there is a compensation in the satisfaction for all this derived from observing the gratitude of the people.
It would be impossible to reproduce all or a tenth part of the grateful letters that have been received this week. One showing the temper of all will suffice. An old lady writes:

the temper of all will suffice. An old lady writes:

"God bless you for placing health and happiness once more within my reach. I have known of your skill, tor you cured my son of bronchial catarrh: but he is a cripple and our income was small, and I know I could never get the money necessary to take treatment for my trouble if I had to pay more than $5 a month. I have prayed God that you might be shown the way how I and hundreds of other poor people similarly afflicted might have the benefit of your skill, and I watched the papers for weeks, he papers for weeks,

Hoping and Praying, hoping and Fraying, and your notice flashed on me like a beam of heavenly light, and I could scarce believe my eyes; yet there it was in black and white:

Mr. Keown $20 to Be Cured of a Life-Long Disease by Drs. Copeland, Hall and

"I HAVE COME PACK,"

The above statement of Mr. Keown only reiterates what Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers hear almost every day. "Weil, doctor, I have come back, and I must confess your words came true, but I thought I was all right and needed no more assistance, and felt that I could save my time and be relieved from the trouble of taking medicine. I see now that I was feeling well because of the approach of the summer and the good effect worked upon me by the bland, wholesome air of the season, but I have not improved as I thought I would, and feel that I am going backward; and inasmuch as the predictions that you made have come true, I have concluded to come to you again and act upon your advice."

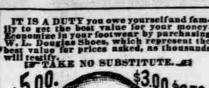

Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers have repeatedly in these columns and also in the consultation room, urged the necessity for continuous and systematic treatment in all chronic troubles, more particularly those of a catarrhal nature. That is the reason they inaugurated their $5 rate of treatment, so that patients could allord to continue with them long enough to receive a perfect cure. If it were possible to cure all chronic aggravated allments in a single month they would charge $25 a month instead of $5.

Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers treat successfully all curable cases at 65 Sixth avenue, Pittsburg, Pa. Office hours, 9 to 11 A. M., 3 to 5 r. M. and 7 to 9 r. M. Sundays, 10 A. M. to 4 r. M. Specialties—Catarrh and all diseases of the eye, ear; throat and lungs; dyspepsia cured; nervous diseases cured; skin diseases cured.

Many cases treated successfully by mail. Send 3-cent stamp for question blank.
